Overview

All Nepal tours include the highlights of Nepal like Pokhara, Chitwan, Lumbini, and some fantastic places in Kathmandu valley. Pokhara is a naturally beautiful place in Nepal and is located about 200 km west of Kathmandu. Pokhara is also known as a beautiful lake town in Nepal which consists of several lakes like Fewa Lake, Begnas Lake, and many others. Pokhara city has its own cultural and religious significance as it consists of different types of temples like Tal Barahi Temple, Bindabasini Temple, and World Peace Stupa, etc. Pokhara also consists of natural caves like Mahendra Cave, Bat Cave, and Gupteswor Cave. The places like Sarangkot offers a clear picture of the Machhapuchre Mountains. Due to the place in Pokhara, the Tour in Nepal is not satisfied without the Pokhara tour.

After completing the Pokhara tour, the next destination is the birthplace of Gautam Buddha, known in the world as the light of Asia. Lumbini offers Gautam Buddha's childhood scenery, such as the ponds where Buddha used to bathe, the place where Buddha stepped immediately after his birth, and many others. Lumbini has many monasteries and museums built by different nations.

Your next visiting place is Chitwan national park. Chitwan is a beautiful destination that offers an exciting jungle safari on the back of an elephant. An elephant ride can be a great experience even for travelers who have never experienced it before. Chitwan offers contrast programs like canoe ride on Rapti River, bird watching tour, Tharu village culture show and much more.

After visiting all these places, the Tour ends in Kathmandu valley. Before you finish the Tour, you will visit Nagarkot, which is about 40 km from Kathmandu.

Nagarkot is very famous for seeing incredible sunrise and sunset; if the weather conditions are good, you can see the clear scenery of Mount Everest from Nagarkot tower. It is the nearest single hill station to Kathmandu, from where you can see Everest. We also visit all the world heritage and UNESCO sites of Nepal, located around Kathmandu valley, on your all Nepal tour Package.

Passport, Visa, and travel information for Nepal

All foreigners, except Indian nationals, need a Nepal visa to enter Nepal. The Nepal visa can be obtained from the Nepalese Embassy or Consulate in your city or country if you meet some requirements. You can also get it on arrival at Tribhuvan International Airport. Still, we recommend you to check first with the nearest consulate whether you can get the Visa on arrival or not. Please read our Nepal immigration regulations online to find out how many countries can obtain a visa on arrival at each entry border. Generally, you will be issued a multiple entry visa if you plan to visit a third country and return to Nepal. It can be helpful if you are planning a trip through Nepal, Tibet, and Bhutan.

A passport is a must to enter almost any country globally; no one can enter a country without a valid passport. Your passport must be valid for at least six months at the time of visa application. If your passport is valid for less than six months and you have only a few pages left, you should apply for a new passport before you go. Please note that Visa, entry, or exit stamps may be more extensive and cover the entire page. If you need to apply for a new passport, you should do so well in advance of your travel plans. If your travel agent requires a copy of your permit or other documents, you can send a copy of your passport, but let them know you will be renewing your passport before you leave. And don't forget to bring a copy of your old passport with your new one if your travel agent using your old passport information for permits and visas.

Visa fee Valid until now (as of 2019, subject to change)

30 dollars for 15 days,

50 for 30 days and

125 for 100 days

Make a copy of your passport

It is highly recommended to write down the passport or bring a photocopy of it together with the original and keep it separately. It would be even better to take a photo and save it on your hard drive or smartphone. If you lose your passport, it is easier to report it to the relevant authority with a copy.

Passport size photo

It is recommended to carry some copies of passport size photos (at least 5-6 copies); two copies are needed for a Nepal visa, and some for permits and TIMS. Therefore, it is advisable to carry some copies of photos during the trip.

Information after arrival at Kathmandu international airport

Before you land at Tribhuvan International Airport, make sure you have given your flight details and get the details (name and number) of the person who will pick you up at the airport. To avoid problems, you can buy a local SIM card at the Nepal Telecom or Ncell counter in the terminal so that you can call the person picking you up directly. If you don't plan to buy a SIM card, don't worry, your representative will come with a placard with your name on it.

Money and SIM card in Nepal

It is best to carry some cash in major currencies such as US dollars, Euros, or British pounds. You can change your money into Nepali currency at any local exchange office. However, most restaurants and shopping centers accept credit cards (Master/Visa), or you can withdraw money from nearby ATMs. However, it is advisable to take some cash with you before you start your day.

As we have already explained, you can buy a SIM card at the terminal upon arrival and withdraw some Nepalese currency from the ATM located very close to the arrival terminal.

Transportation

For cultural and historical tours, we use private vehicles like cars, jeeps, land cruisers, minibus, coaches, etc., depending on the size of the group. Generally, there is a speed limit of 50 m/h in the mountainous region of Nepal due to the winding mountain roads.

Tour Guide

On all tours, you will be with a tour guide and a driver. If the group travels by bus or the group size is large, the transport assistant will also accompany you. The guide is the person who leads the group and who you should contact in case of problems, doubts, suggestions, etc. We use guides licensed by the tourist office and have good English skills and information about the cultural and heritage sites. We guarantee that the tour guides have good knowledge of history, adequate information about the historical sites and other tourist places.

Travel insurance

You must purchase comprehensive travel insurance before your trip. The insurance policy should cover personal accidents, medical expenses, emergency evacuation, etc. And we recommend that the insurance policy also covers cancellation, interruption, loss of luggage, and personal belongings.

Health

Nepal does not have any particular health requirements for entry into the country. However, it is recommended to consult your doctor before starting your trip to Nepal. Please have up-to-date information on vaccinations and medications for any logically foreseeable illnesses during your trip to Nepal. Be informed that some medications or any antimalarial may have side effects at altitude.

FAQS

Where can I apply for a Nepal visa?

The best way to apply for a visa is at the diplomatic missions of Nepal in your country. The other way is to get it at the immigration office at the entry points to Nepal.

How to get to Nepal?

To fly directly from your country to Nepal, Tribhuvan International Airport in Kathmandu is the only international airport in Nepal. TIA has direct flights to Osaka, Shanghai, London, Frankfurt, Hong Kong, Singapore, Bangkok, Delhi, Dubai, Mumbai, and Kolkata. Lufthansa, Nepal Airlines, Air India, Singapore Airlines, and Thai are the airlines that carry most foreign travelers to Kathmandu. If you buy tickets on another airline, you will likely be connected to one of them for the last part of the flight. Another option, if you have the time and enthusiasm, is to travel overland to Nepal via India or Tibet, China.

When is the best time to travel to Nepal?

The best time to visit Nepal is between October and December, when the skies are clear and blue and spectacular. The weather remains dry until around April, with temperatures varying from region to region. January and February can be freezing, especially at night, with average temperatures.

Do I need insurance to travel to Nepal?

When traveling to Nepal or other destinations, it is essential to purchasing travel insurance. As the weather varies, the availability of infrastructure, cost factors for rescue or evacuation costs, treatment costs are the main part of buying travel insurance before you start your trip. If your travel insurance recognizes it, then we can immediately take the necessary steps for rescue or evacuation to save your life. Especially for trekking, climbing, expedition, or other adventurous activities, you should purchase a complete insurance package that covers rescue and evacuation by helicopter as well as medical expenses.

Can I get a Nepal visa on arrival?

Yes. The Visa for Nepal can be easily obtained on arrival at the entry points. Facilitate the process by downloading and filling out the application form, have the correct cash and two passport photos ready.

Is there tourist police in Nepal?

Of course, there is also a tourist police station located near the Nepal Tourism Development Office. There are also complaint desks at the airport and Durbar Square in Basantapur. The tourist police are specially trained in English and have detailed local knowledge to help tourists. For security and travel-related assistance, any of the officers can be contacted at 4-247041, 4-4268969 from 11 am to 5 pm.

How much is the visa fee for Nepal?

A one-time entry visa, valid for 15/30/90 days, costs 30 dollars for 15 days, 50 dollars for 30 days, and 125 dollars for 100 days. At Tribhuvan Airport in Kathmandu, the fee can be paid in any primary currency, but officials require payment in cash using U.S. dollars and small bills at land borders. SAARC countries can get a free 30-day visa on arrival.

Review

An unforgettable experience - most excellent tour guide

The all-in-one travel package was just suitable for our Nepal vacation. We had our city sightseeing, a rafting trip on the Trishuli River, visited Lumbini (the birthplace of Buddha), and had our rhino encounter in Chitwan National Park, all in just 14 days. We enjoyed the entire episode. Our tour operator Nepal Tour & Trekking Service P. Ltd, deserves our thanks for the beautiful organization of this incredible trip.

Great Tour and highly supportive staff!!!

We chose the twelve days package tour for our vacation. It included a tour of Kathmandu, the city of temples and palaces, a day trip to Pokhara, the city on the lake, a rafting adventure on the Trishuli River on the way to Pokhara, a jungle safari in Chitwan National Park, and a visit to the revered Buddhist shrine of Lumbini. The whole trip allowed us to learn the locals at the shrines, a chance to get our adrenaline pumping in the white water and enjoy the presence of beautiful Mount Machapuchhre to the north while enjoying our coffee by Lake Phewa. The October month was also ideal, fantastic. All in all, we had precisely the kind of trip we wanted. We would recommend this trip with a very well-organizer.

The best guided Tour ever

I met Mr. Kishor, who prepared my travel itinerary with sound advice and excellent service. He provided the best tour guide who was always smiling and knowing about all the historical places in Kathmandu and Pokhara tourism. In Pokhara, I did a short hike in Dhampus Sarngkot. My guide, Pramod, was great in the mountains. He was very polite and respectful to me. He knew all the places and people in the mountains and also showed me the local culture. The mountain people were friendly, always smiling and working hard every day. On my hiking when I was in Saragkot, sunset and sunrise were breathtaking views with the white Himalayas. It was a lovely commemorative trip made on my journey with all the trimmings. No harassment, no hurry, no pushing. Thanks to all the team. I would highly recommend anyone for any trip to Nepal at reliability and a reasonable price.

Excellent 14 days Nepal tour with a fantastic guide

Mr. Kishor, Manager of the company, is a frank guy who organizes everything perfectly and has very fair and reasonable prices. We had private transport and driver for (Kathmandu - Pokhara - Chitwan, and Lumbini). Our hotels in Kathmandu, Pokhara, Lumbini, and Chitwan were excellent, and the service was perfect.

A great experience with lovely people

Kishor and Kul were terrific: they were generous with their time, friendly, and took good care of our Tour. Every aspect of our trip was well planned, and we knew they were always available if we needed anything. We spent twelve days in Kathmandu, Chitwan, Lumbini, Pokhara, and many other nearby places. We had a knowledgeable and friendly expert guide who ensured our safety and made the experience much more enjoyable. We are already thinking of returning to Nepal in the future, and definitely, we will book a trip with Kishor.

A very well organized and satisfying trip to Nepal

Kishor and his team were fantastic from the beginning. He responded to our email quickly and patiently to all questions and concerns and made a good itinerary. Together with Kishor and Kul, they gave us an unforgettable trip that gave us a taste of how wonderful Nepal is. We hope to have the opportunity to come back again.
