Accommodation

Since the mountain flight is a short trip of one hour, it is not planned to provide hotels, meals, and accommodation for visitors. However, at the request of visitors, we can arrange accommodation.

Essentials

The best time for a mountain flight

You can do this adventure activity, "mountain flying," in the mountain regions of Nepal at any time of the year. Nepal has four main seasons: Autumn, Monsoon, spring, and winter. All these seasons can be considered for mountain flying, but the best views, clear and bright, are mainly in autumn and spring. An early morning flight is best for the beautiful scenery.

Clothing during the mountain flight

Of course, the mountain flight takes place in the mountainous regions of Nepal. Therefore, the temperature will be colder than expected. But you need to know about the season and the surrounding climate beforehand and prepare your suitcase accordingly.

Panorama freedom

The freedom of panorama is the legalized protocol that allows the taking of photos and videos. Accordingly, visitors are allowed to take pictures and videos of their choice. However, if a circumstance of capture restriction occurs, you should ask the pilots or the instructor for cooperation.

A Gesture of humility and gratitude

It is necessary to behave like a human being when traveling, whether at home or abroad. It is essential to show humble and civilized behavior towards others and also within the group. It will help a lot to have a safe and healthy flight at such a high altitude. Jumping, hands out, fidgeting (during flight), and other activities should be strictly prohibited.

Food and snacks

You can take light meals and snacks in case you work up an appetite. Dried fruits, nuts, etc., are recommended instead of packaged and canned foods. Packaged and canned foods are restricted due to flight protocols that are concentrated through flight advisories.

FAQS

What happens in case of bad weather?

The weather is unpredictable and can change drastically in a short time at a high altitude. In addition, the mountainous terrain is very challenging. In bad weather conditions, the safety of the flight is not guaranteed. The flight will be rescheduled. You must be patient while we organize and reschedule your mountain flight excursion.

What is the flight schedule to Everest from Kathmandu?

In any case, you should not miss this opportunity to experience the best mountain flight to Everest. You can enjoy this flight tour every morning. The flight takes only one hour, and you can fly over the majestic mountains. For flight schedules, you can contact us.

Does the pilot have experience?

Yes, the licensed pilot will have a lot of experience. He will have flown the same route many times. So you don't have to worry at all. The mountainous terrain is very challenging, so the safety of the passengers is the top priority. Therefore, only licensed pilots with good experience in this area are allowed to fly.

When is the best time to do this tour?

Spring (March-May) and fall (September-November) are the best times for this tour. The weather is clear and stable, with minimal rain, which makes it perfect for helicopter tours. Also, it is less windy during these months than during the rest of the year. During the spring and fall seasons, there are few instances when the weather is unpredictable.

Reviews

Best Flight Trip to Mount Everest

Flying to Mount Everest with Buddha Air is an incredible trip in Nepal; the views of the Himalayas are breathtaking.

The crew was beneficial and pointed out the different peaks of the Himalayas and the names of the mountains.

Highly recommended flights in Nepal.

The mountain flight in Nepal is a unique adventure. The best part of the mountain flight is that all passengers have a window seat to see and take pictures of the Himalayas. The cabin crew points out the prominent peaks and their names.

The flight tour certificate will be given after the completion of the tour, and you can experience the true beauty of the Himalayas. Everyone who visits Nepal should not miss the great mountain flights.

The best way to see the mountain range, including Everest

The most unique and bucket list-worthy experience. It is truly magical, and I recommend it to anyone traveling to Kathmandu. You can see Mount Everest from the lodge, which is unreal.

If you can't make it to the Everest Base Camp trek, don't miss this

It was a great flight to see the Himalayas and Mount Everest. If you want to improve your experience, this is an exceptional time. The key is to manage your expectations.

The weather is always changeable. We had to wait two hours before we could board and take off. It can be pretty standard.

We got window seats on both sides of the plane. On the way out, the mountains are on the left side. The aircraft will turn left, and the right side will see the mountains on the way back.

We got a map of the mountains. The flight crew helps us to identify the mountains. We got a chance to visit the cockpit to take just a few photos.

Understand that you will still be a reasonable distance from Everest. You have to get closer, but the view was spectacular.

The plane is very comfortable, and we flew at 21000 feet.
